CANCER AND COMMON SENSE

The medical and lay press of the continent is giving wide publicity to the achievement of Dr. T. J. Glover, Canadian surgeon, who claims to have isolated the germ of cancer and found a remedy which will positively cure the disease.

Dr. Glover's claims are substantiated, his will have been the standard given by the medical men brought to this Dominion. Dr. Baillie's discoveries are important, if this is a cure, will give an even greater incentive.

But, with no desire to minimize the great importance of these achievements, it does seem a very great pity that the brains and ability of the medical profession should be set aside to the spectacular phases of medical practice, which do not contribute to the welfare of society.

While one Banting or one Glover is working away on one or two specific diseases, the medical profession has lost over the same eight years much new hope and new life, finally to the public by application of the modern and scientific rules of Humanity needs relief from cancer and diabetes; it needs new knowledge of those diseases. But what it needs infinitely more is direct and wholehearted application of the knowledge which the medical profession already has accumulated.

It is not so much new scientific knowledge that the medical world needs as access to present knowledge. And it will require the genius of a Banting or a Glover to secure that access.

All that is required is a frank and earnest effort on the part of the medical profession to come out from behind its wall of ethics, to get out and merchandise the simple facts of diet, exercise and hygiene, and to do this in a manner that will both guide the public to normal living and the medical profession to a new prosperity.

FORGIVERS SAFE AS CHINESE CITIES FALL IN GRID CIVIL WAR

Anap, Dec. —While Marshal Chang Te Lin is organizing the alliance of northern war lords, to attempt a recuperative movement against Canton, the most revolutionary army of the south is continuing its march.

Within the last 24 hours two important cities, Foo Chau and Yenping, both on the line of the railroads from Canton to the coast, have fallen into the hands of the Canton government. Possessing these cities, the way is open to the revolutionaries to march forward into northern Fukien province and Chekiang, the provinces adjoining on the west and south, in which the northerners can make a stand to bar further progress.

Imperialists as foreigners are concerned, the situation seems to be quieting down. Foo Chau is now invaded by the Cantonese, and Hankow, which has been in southern hands since the fall of Wu, and some of foreign powers are protecting the lives and property of foreigners in Foo Chau.

Still the flood of foreign vessels is riding the placid river Yangtze, ready for any emergency that may arise, and to the safety of western national in Hankow. Three anti-foreign demonstrations have been held in Canton, population for several days but there has been no inward incident. The Chinese government is still in the throes of a general anti-foreign strike which was originally set for December 1st, but which has been given, however, that this may be extended and already industrial leaders are threatening to continue manufacturing concerns have been settled.

Anti-foreign papers published in China have uniformly commended the attitude of the Cantonese armies toward foreign interests, especially the English, concluding it is probable the foreigners in the newly-occupied areas in Fukien will have to fear, that when less disciplined troops of northern units were in charge.

YAT YAN Started It

New York, Dec. 15.—The present international conflict in China is the result of the efforts on the part of followers of the late Dr. Sun Yat Sen, known as the "Yellow party."

Yat Yan, in Canton, has been trying to carry out a long cherished project of that pioneer of revolution in China, the reorganization of the country, what Dr. Sun chose to regard as the Dr. who were delivering the masses from their political masters.

As long ago as 1918 while himself a refugee from his political enemies he organized a secret society in Shanghai. Sun boasted that he contrived an organization capable of overthrowing the government of the powerful warlord, Yuan Shih Kai.

In the meantime, Dr. Sun died, but his son, Dr. Sun Yat, carried on his plan to dominate all of China gaining strength from year to year as the power of the warlord, centered in Peking, became weaker and more exhausted financially.

COMMONS LIKELY TO ADOPT ON FRIDAY THIS WEEK

Ottawa, Dec. 14.—Parliament will adjourn on Friday for the Christmas recess; this is the consensus of opinion in well informed political circles.

The cabinet, it is understood, has under consideration the question of the proposed budget, which will be presented after the holidays. It is probable that an announcement in the matter will be forthcoming before the Commons adjourns. At present the indications are that parliament will resume about the first week in January. It is also believed that exists that the debate on the speech from the throne will be terminated before adjournment, but it is not entirely certain that the main estimates left over from last session will all be passed this week in Monck form.

light comedy plot, with scores of extremely funny situations. Gibbons is our comic cowboy who continually finds himself in embarrassing and untenable positions because of his love of horseplay.

He always gives a splendid performance, and is especially good in the many comedy scenes. His wit and good humor are keen, and he delights in making himself as unromantic as possible.

Comically good, and makes Gibson valuable and gives the picture a great deal of entertainment. Fay Wray, with her charming personality and her referring you to me, makes a very pleasant woman.

D. E. R. Crabbe, of Vancouver, was badly frost-bitten while on his trip from the western city to Macleod. When he reached Macleod he was sent to the local elevator for the bushel, on which he found the Pool had 73¢ a bushel for the same grade, hence he said one man lost 28¢ a bushel because he had to pay for his ticket to paid price by rail.

A. G. Lang, of Cypress, writes to the Alberta Wheat Pool offering his services to the organization.

"Personally I strongly favor the co-operative system of marketing and think the farmers have accomplished wonders in so short a time, and believe the benefits generally will be mutual."

Australia has been selling a portion of her wheat through state marketing boards, and the result of this system was that these states often put up higher prices than others.

Alberta has developed little power in the grain market.

To follow the visit of Mr. Alberts, Wheat Commissioner of Alberta, to the Antwerp, the Pool's

Marketing Committee got together and decided to hold a joint assembly this evening.

Hermon Treble, the Peace River district farmer who has held the title of Alberta's first wheat grower for the past two years, was present.

Mr. Treble, of the Peace River
